Trades Council May Force Masons and Bricklayers to Join Federation.

A building trades council has been formed here to force the affiliation of the masons and bricklayers with the American Federation of Labor. Word has been received from the international headquarters of the body not to recognize delegates from local unions of the masons and bricklayers, as they are not members of the federation. The idea of the newly formed council is to compel them to become affiliated by refusal to do any work on structures, the foundations of which have been laid by masons and bricklayers who are not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. These unions have heretofore refused to affiliate, and the result will be watched with interest. The council will become effective February 1.

The burial service of Mrs. Lucinda Hollis of Cambridge, Mass., was held here at 9 o'clock this morning. Rev. L. J. Bamberg officiating. The body was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lowell of Thayer, Mass.

The 19-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ronch had a narrow escape from death Wednesday when Mrs. Ronch gave her some tooth wash in place of medicine, the liquids being in similar bottles. Upon telephoning to the drug store to learn what was in the wash and finding there was carbolic acid, among other things, the child was given an antidote, and a doctor called, so that she suffered no ill results after a few hours.

John Bover, the aged man who was taken from his room Wednesday and carried to Heaton hospital, died there yesterday afternoon. For a long time he had been suffering from Bright's disease, but refused to leave his room in the Swaney block to go where he could receive care. His condition was learned a few days ago when Aldermen Deady and Thomas and Mayor Dawley called at his room. He had no money but wood had been provided him and food, though it was found that he had been unable to get around enough to put the wood in the stove and the old man lay there in the cold and squalor. Even then he refused to leave and be taken to the hospital and was carried to the cab which took him there. He was about 75 years old and spent most of his life in Moretown, where he once bought a farm and lived on it for 25 years, but made only one payment and paid no interest. Montpelier had threatened to bring a suit against the town of Moretown for Bover's support, but his death has made it unnecessary.
